This notice is effective on or after 12/2006

In February, 2014, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) posted to its website new models of the notice of privacy practices in an effort to make the Notice of Privacy Practices (NPP) less cumbersome, and to improve patient's experience and understanding of their rights and how their PHI is managed. These notices are written in clear, user-friendly language and reflect the recent regulatory changes to HIPAA. There are two sets of notices available, one specific for health plans and one for health care providers. These are available to all covered entities and may be customized with an organization's specific information.

Each sample is provided in English and Spanish with three formatted options (booklet, layered, full page) and one text-only option. For detailed instructions on how to customize these "plain" language NPPs, go to the HHS website at <http://www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/modelnotices.html>.
